We did so many un-bee-lievable things this May that I am just buzzing with excitement to tell you all about.

Voices of N/Pre

Children's Day

To celebrate Children's Day, N/Pre made some Koinobori crafts. They tore up colourful crepe paper, put the pieces inside some plastic and added details like eyes and scales. They danced around the room with their craft so cheerfully.

Mother's Day

The N/Pre class wanted to show their Mums how much they mean to them so they made them some lovely crafts. They used red paint to print their hands onto paper which they cut out and made amazing Mother's Day bouquets. I am sure their mums loved getting them on their special day.

About the Body

This month, N/Pre learned about the body. Through many different methods like games, movement, dancing, and crafts they learned the about hands, feet, and more. They combined this with their topic of bugs to make foot print caterpillars.

Book Recommendation

I Ain't Gonna Paint No More!
A little boy whose whole identity is painting and he just can't stop.

Nobody Likes a Goblin
A brave little goblin who sets out on a dangerous quest to rescue his friend and discover himself along the way.

Baby & Mommy

We Love Mommy

Even the babies wanted to make something for their mums this month. They balled up crepe paper and stuck them down to some sticky paper to make some cute Mother's Day hearts. They used some of the skills they learned from us and put them into adorable practice.

Kinder Memories

Mother's Day

Mother's Day was this month and the students wanted to show their love and appreciation to their mums by making them a craft. K1 stamped paint onto paper to make a card, K2 made a picture frame from popsicle sticks, and K3 made a standing frame using clay. They're mums were all so happy to receive such thoughtful gifts from their kid and I am sure they will get many more.

Overnight Camp

K3 took an overnight trip to Mt. Nyukasa in Nagano with their friends from Ikebukuro and Meguro. We all met very early in the morning and made our way to Nagano. On the first day, the students picked vegetables, made compost, and did indoor P.E. On the second day, they took a gondola trip up the mountain to go on a hike. They really enjoyed having the sleepover with their friends.

IB Thinking

All About Me!

K1 began their first IB theme: Who We Are. They have been learning all about themselves and the many different things that they like. They discussed things like favourite food, animals, colours and put it all together in some really creative posters for the wall. The class really enjoyed showing off the different parts of their lives and personalities in these posters.

Field Trip

The three Kinder classes went to Kashiwanoha park for their first field trip of the year. The weather was so hot so we decided to take the bus there instead of walking as we usually do. Despite the heat, the kids still enjoyed walking through the rose garden, seeing the koi fish in the Japanese garden, and playing games in the big open field with all their friends. Everyone was exhausted by the end but had fun.

Pet Beetles

K3 brought back some beetle larvae from their overnight trip. Right now, they are only little and spend most of their time buried under the soil and resting. The class learned all about them and even made a little booklet about them by drawing pictures. They are all so excited to see them finally become big beetles and crawl out of the soil. No one knows how long it will take but everyone is keeping a close eye on them.
